

SILHOUETTE REPARTEE

:::

By J. K. BRYANS

"Lady, I am footsore an' weary an'——"
"Well, so am I. But I don't go around ther country tellin' folks about it!"

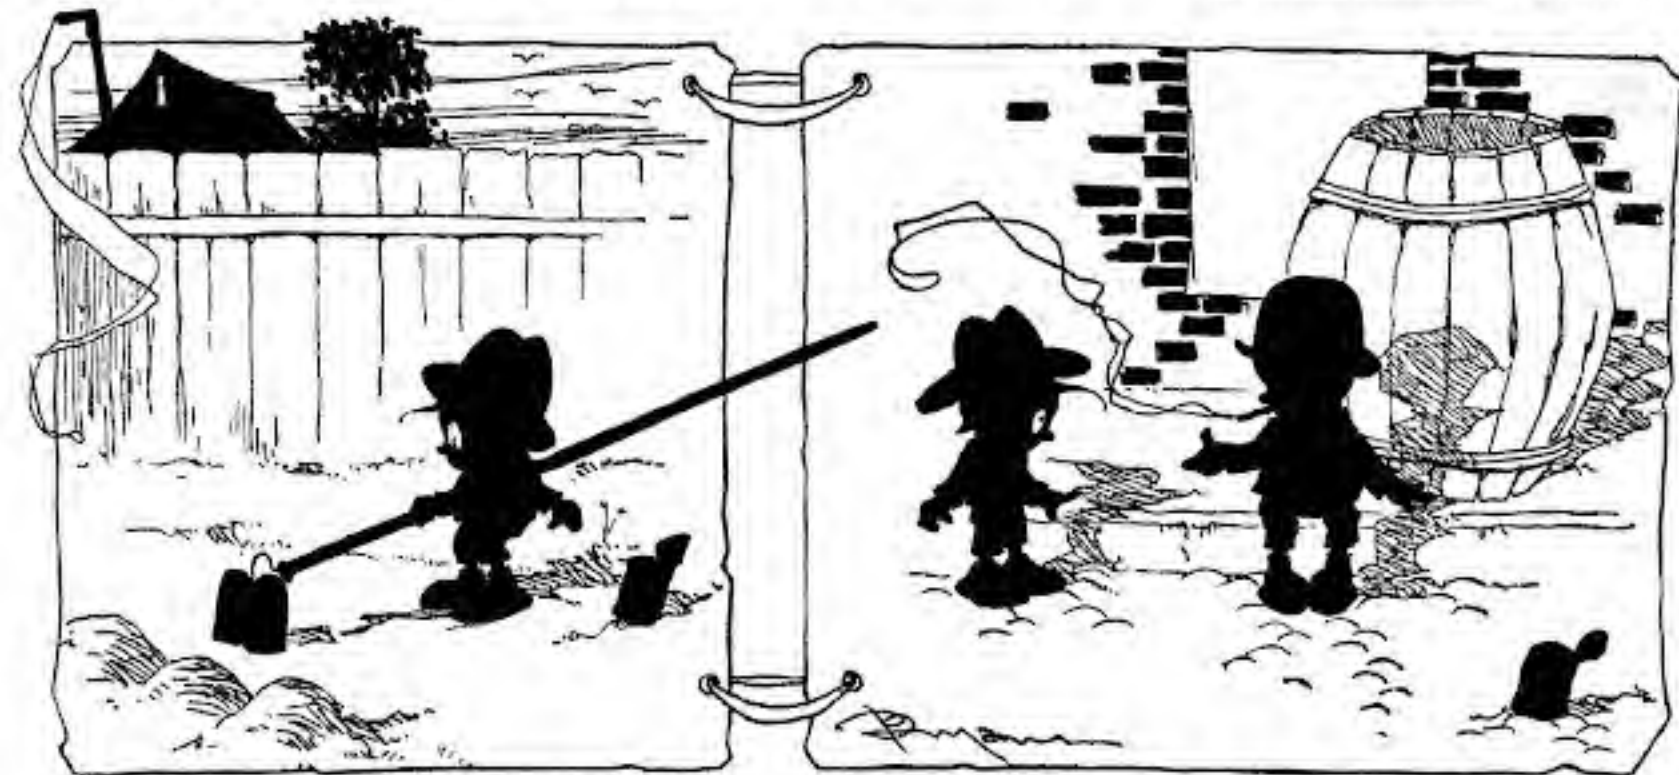

"Look here, little boy, I want to go to Corn Hollow!"
"All right, lady, go right along. I'm not a-tryin ter stop you!"

"Ella Cution" : She Tries It on the Cow : By J. K. Bryans

Springtime Fancies.

By J. K. Bryans.

The City Farmer - Doggone it! I planted three cans of baked beans here a month ago, an' dere ain't no signs of 'em growin' yet!

"Eddie, if you had $200, wot'd you do wit it?"
"You tell me how many nickels dat is an' I'll tell you!"

On the Glad Highway By J. K. Bryans.

"Say, boss, you hasn't er dime in yer clothes, has yer?"
"No, my man, I have not. But how did you guess it?"

"Hurry up, Shorty, an' git a move on! I wants to make der next town before der fall closes fer de night!"

Soldier Boys.

.. ..

By J. K. Bryans.

The Captain—See here, sirs, if you runs home and swipes some pie fer me an' me starvin' troops, I'll make youse daughter of de regiment, see!

"General, the enemy are on the run!"

"Good, very good!"

"Yes, sir, but they're running this way, sir!"

WILLIE GETS A CHRISTMAS TREE.

